

TO-DAY'S RACING OFF.

The Opening of the N. S. A. Meeting at Morris Park Postponed.

Will Run Hurdle and Flat Races on Saturday if Possible.

Gov. Morton's Delay in Signing the New Bills the Cause.

Hundreds of persons were disappointed to learn this morning that the steeplechase, hurdle and flat races which were to be conducted by the National Steeplechase Association at Morris Park to-day, will not take place. A postponement has been made until Saturday, and in case Gov. Morton does not by that time sign the racing bills which are before him, the races will be again postponed until Monday next.

Falling by that time to have the sanction of the law to the meet, the meeting will be declared off until such a time as the National Steeplechase Association can secure the necessary legislative enactments. The very attractive steeplechase and hurdle stakes which had been arranged by the Association, and which promised the finest jumping races ever seen in this part of the country, have all been declared off and entrance fees will be returned to owners. Instead, a programme of purse races will be arranged for the future meeting, whenever it may take place.

The National Steeplechase Association is desirous of the sympathy of turfmen and racegoers. In spite of the prejudice existing among racegoers against this branch of racing, they managed to interest turfmen to such an extent that a splendid class of entries was received, and many well-known flat performers were trained over the sticks. Society became intensely interested in the meeting also, and had the racing gone on to-day the paddock and grand stand would have been hardly less full than the coach and tally parties that would have visited the track.

It is doubtful if the meeting would have been a financial success. The Association was at considerable expense laying out the track, and besides this particular branch of sport does not find favor with the regulars. Gov. Morton, it is reported, has said that he would sign the bills and appoint a Racing Commission to-day. The Commission would then be authorized to license immediately, and it seems very probable that the meeting will begin on Saturday.

MAY SIGN BILLS TO-DAY.

Gov. Morton Expected to Make Racing on Saturday Possible.

(Special to The Evening World.) ALBANY, May 9.—Gov. Morton said this morning that he would try to reach the racing bills now before him some time to-day. He was prevented from doing so by an unusually heavy press of other important matters, but thinks he can dispose of them to-day. He may not be able to name the Commission until next morning, however, but it is pretty certain that he will act in time for the races that begin on Saturday.

The Commission will be composed of the gentlemen named by "The Evening World" yesterday, Messrs. August Belmont and ex-Congressman Sanford, and either Col. Kip or E. D. Morgan. Mr. Morgan is regarded as the more probable.

Gov. Cole said this morning that Gov. Morton would not take any action on the racing bills until late this afternoon, at the very earliest.

MAINE TRANSPLANTED.

Novel Exhibit of Sporting Trophies, Including Game and Guides.

The Maine steamship Manhattan brought a novel outfit of curios to her dock last night. It consists of specimens of game from the State of Maine, including moose, caribou, trout, and other game. All of these are included in the collection. A noble moosehead, with antlers reaching seven feet, is the grandest of the lot, sent from Aroostook County. The collection is in charge of two guides from the Hallowell Lakes, who have also brought their costumes and accoutrements. They and their trophies will form a most interesting exhibit at the Sportsmen's Exhibition in Madison Square Garden next week. It will be shown in a genuine Aroostook log cabin. The exhibit is entered by the Maine Central Railroad.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

"Doc" Street, the individual who has given racegoers more heartaches than perhaps any other on the turf, has been ruled off by the management at St. Asaph for the fraudulent running of Summertime. Jockey Nacey, who pulled the filly, confessed yesterday that "Doc" Street had given him orders to pull the filly.

Starter Fitzpatrick evidently had hosts of friends at St. Asaph yesterday, judging by the applause he received for his very good work.

Freel Littlefield will ride Baseline in the Handicap.

In fact, Nacey says, he had a standing contract with Street, whereby he was to get $500 for winning mounts and $100 for a pull. Nacey says he received his order by wire from Street, where Street was staying at the time the filly was pulled. Whether Nacey produced the telegram as corroborative evidence does not appear.

"Doc" Street has probably done many shady things while on the turf, but in this instance it seems as though he had been sacrificed to the whole J. M. Hill, the St. Asaph stockholder, who was accused of being at the bottom of the whole affair.

Hill has two books in the ring. One goes under the name of the gentlemen's Driving Club. The other has the name of H. Hayes put over the title. Both of these books, it is asserted, boosted up the price against Summertime in such barefaced fashion that the attention of the bettors was at once drawn to the game.

It is ridiculous to suppose that Street ever entered into any such agreement as Nacey states. Street is artful, and there are too many ways of stopping a horse than by having the jockey pull. A further investigation is to be made by the Jockey Club and Trainer Lyle Bloch. Jockey Nacey, J. M. Hill, "Doc" Street and others will be examined tonight.

The action of the Jockey Club in refusing to grant the filly track a license is a step toward the turf. The Jockey Club does not wish to be in the affairs of the turf Congress, and the resolution, which defines the boundaries of the territory over which the Jockey Club proposes to exercise jurisdiction, is an intimation that the Jockey Club wants the turf Congress to keep its hands off turf affairs in the East.

Judging from the fact that Judge Powers and Starter Fitzpatrick of the St. Asaph track, who called before the Jockey Club yesterday, it seems probable that the Jockey Club intends to administer some punishment to the Virginia Association for the crooked racing that has been going on there.

The St. Asaph people declare that they are under the wings of the turf Congress, and intimate that they do not care whether the Jockey Club revokes their license or not, as at any rate, if punishment is to be administered, the Jockey Club wants it to be lasting.

John C. Carr has taken active control of the St. Asaph track and in his first race has pulled a pure and clean in the future. Mr. Carr's attitude means what he says, and so far as the turf is concerned, he is fearless and honest. He says that the newly appointed Judge, T. Wood Morris, will be a fair and honest official. Several incidents which were highly complimentary to Judge Morris, Carr did a great deal towards keeping racing at St. Asaph clean and the racing public has great confidence in him.

With the close of to-day there are only five days before the Brooklyn Handicap will be run. The candidates will be sent right along from now on and will receive their final "press" on Monday. Dr. Hill is to be for the most favored horse at the track, and that he has his old time speed demonstrated by a half in a mile yesterday very easily. Robinson and Ed Kearney are also doing very well.

CROKER TO RETURN?

Harry Reed and Stonenell Are Scratched from the Jubilee.

All Two-Year-Olds Except Montauk Cancel Engagements.

Heavy Imposts of Weight Said to Have Discouraged Americans.

NEWMARKET, May 9.—It was announced this afternoon that Harry Reed and Stonenell had been scratched for the Jubilee Stakes, and that Mr. Croker had also scratched all his two-year-olds, except Montauk, from all engagements. This was a genuine surprise to turfmen, as Harry Reed had been clocked a very satisfactory mile over the Rowley mile, and his weight, 55 pounds, seemed to give him an excellent chance in the Jubilee Stakes.

Stonenell was entered in the same stake and was to carry 117 pounds. The stakes in the Jubilee Stakes are $10,000. The entries are Ravenhill, 124 pounds; Throstle, 125; El Diablo, 110, and Priestholme, 105.

The action of Messrs. Dwyer and Croker in scratching Stonenell and Harry Reed from the Jubilee Stakes and the declaring from all engagements of the two-year-olds in the stable have Rowley, seems to indicate that the American turfmen are thinking of returning home.

From reports sent home by Messrs. Dwyer and Croker, it seems evident that they are receiving anything but the fair play that the Englishman boasts of. Their horses have been anchored with weight and they are unable to get money on at anything like the average price quoted in the English newspaper men have got out their hammers and the lot of Messrs. Dwyer and Croker seems anything but a pleasant one.

It is asserted on this side of the water that Messrs. Dwyer and Croker contemplate giving a meeting at Jerome Park and their action in scratching their horses from engagements gives color to the report that they intend returning to this country.

PUGILISTIC POINTERS.

Sam Fitzpatrick, manager of Kid Lavigne, saw the "Young Corbett" Jim Holmes bout in the Seaside Athletic Club on Monday night, and after Corbett had won said he would match Lavigne against the winner, whether Lavigne won or lost his bout with "Young Griffe" Jim Kennedy.

Jack McCalliff is said to be taking great care of himself. Jack has been in Washington for some time, and several times each day he runs around the race tracks with heavy sweaters on to reduce his weight. McCalliff's friends are very much pleased with the manner in which Jack is conducting himself, and it is said to be a fact that he meets Griffe he is in excellent condition.

Johnny Dunn, matchmaker of the New Manhattan Athletic Club, is trying to arrange an eight-round bout between Larry and Joe Gates, the English bantams, for the Club's show next Wednesday evening. They may meet at 105 pounds.

There is a possibility of a match being arranged within ten days between Tim Murphy and Kid Partland for a limited number of rounds at 115 pounds. Both are more than anxious to set at each other, and their frequent challenges will probably lead to a fight.

Charley Gehring, the Baltimore light-weight, and Owen Ziegler, Philadelphia, will meet for ten rounds in Baltimore to-night at 125 pounds.

Charley Strong, of Newark, who knocked out Peter Courtney, of Trenton, in one minute and 55 seconds in the New Manhattan Athletic Club Tuesday night, has issued a challenge to fight Fred Morris, "Madison's Cyclone," a limited number of rounds or to a finish for $250 or $500 a side.

Jimmy Handley and Mike Leonard have been matched for eight rounds at the Seaside Athletic Club boxing show in Grand Army Hall, Williamsburg, next Monday night. It was first reported that the Long Island Athletic Club had the bout.

Jimmy Paul, of the West Side Athletic Club, and Mike Vernon, of Brooklyn, will meet eight rounds at 110 pounds at the show of the New Manhattan Athletic Club next Monday night.

Matchmaker Billy Drinkwater has signed Caesar Lewis to meet Jimmie Cullen, of Trenton, for eight rounds at the Seaside Athletic Club show Monday night.

Jack Madden will meet Joe McCarthy at the Long Island Athletic Club show May 14. They will contest for eight rounds at 110 pounds.

Billy Vernon and Billy Ernst will be secured in a few days for a six-round bout at the Long Island A. C. show. They will meet at catch weight.

Mick Dunn is in excellent condition for his six-round bout with Edward Maher, which is to be contested at the Seaside A. C. show.

Here is the programme as arranged by Manager Jim Kennedy for the Seaside Athletic Club's "next boxing show" which will be held Tuesday night, May 14: "Young" Griffe vs. "Kid" Lavigne, 10 rounds, catch weight; Tommy Denney vs. Walter Halligan, 10 rounds at 125 pounds; Charley Kelly vs. Frank Zimpher, 4 rounds at 112 pounds.

Tommy Tracey and Tom Cavanaugh to sleep in the eighth round of their go at Galveston last night.

The Atlantic Athletic Club bouts scheduled for May 20 promise a good night's sport. Peter Maher is the "card," and his meeting with big, strong Bob Marshall is looked forward to with interest. The Irishman's friends are backing him as a "sure thing." The twelve-round go between Dan Durfee and the ten-round bout between Kelly and Haugh are good preliminaries.

Eddie Sweney versus Eddie Loeber forms one of the attractions to be offered at the New Manhattan Athletic Club next Wednesday night. Another feature will be a bout between Mike Harries and Joe Harmon.

A Great Peach Crop Looked for. The season thus far gives promise of an unusually heavy peach crop. Last year many buds came out in March, but were destroyed later. This season, however, there is every reason to believe peaches will be both cheap and plentiful.

CORBETT'S NEW IDEA.

Wants to Fight Jackson Before the National Sporting Club.

This is the Same Organization to Which He Previously Objected.

Meanwhile Manager Brady Says the Fitzsimmons Match is "On."

The announcement that James J. Corbett would meet Peter Jackson before the National Sporting Club of London during August or September next is, to say the least, a surprise to sporting men in this city. To those, especially, who have heard Corbett say again and again that he would not fight before that club, it was hardly to be credited.

Still, there is in evidence a cablegram bearing the signature of Manager Brady, which definitely makes a proposition to that effect. It was sent yesterday to Matchmaker Fleming.

The proposition ignores absolutely the contract with the Florida Athletic Club, by which Corbett and Fitzsimmons are held to an agreement to fight on a date to be specified by that club, and, as the club's representative holds, at a place to be selected by it. It was expected that the fight with Fitzsimmons would be held in September.

According to Brady, Corbett has despaired of the Fitzsimmons fray taking place "for the present," either in Florida or elsewhere. Legislation, he says, has made it impossible in Florida and Louisiana, Dallas, Tex., he declares, is not in a position to guarantee immunity from the law. No mention is made of the average price quoted in the English newspaper men have got out their hammers and the lot of Messrs. Dwyer and Croker seems anything but a pleasant one.

What caused the sudden change of base and the resolution to fight Jackson, when the latter has for some time held his peace and ceased hurling challenges at the champion, cannot be conjectured. In their meeting in a room in the Grand Union Hotel last Fall Peter Jackson made his insistence upon fighting before the National Club a loophole through which to escape a match and secure possession of the money he had deposited.

At that time Corbett and Brady had much to say about the club specified, much that was not at all flattering to the club and its officials. Now, however, they ask the club to donate a purse and waive all objections in the matter. It has been known for some time that Brady intends taking Steve's Dorn and George Green ("Young Corbett"), to England next month, which may mean some bearing on the new manoeuvre. With the champion added to the combination, a challenge proceeding him, the ideal of a press agent's dream is realized. There are additional reasons in taking Corbett to England, and a great hit.

Meanwhile, what of Fitzsimmons? He has made a match to fight the champion before the Florida Athletic Club and is apparently willing to go on. Sporting authorities hold that he has first call, and the corporation of a match with Jackson, or even the overture to such a match, is against precedent. Brady acknowledges that the Fitzsimmons match is "still on," and says it will take place as soon as it is practicable in this country.

DALLAS STILL HOPES.

Negotiations Said to Be Under Way for the Big Fight.

DALLAS, Tex., May 9.—It looks now as if Dallas would surely get the Corbett-Fitzsimmons prize fight, and that it will come off during the State Fair and Dallas Exposition next October.

Since the outlawing by legislation and court decision two days ago of prize fighting in Florida and Louisiana, William A. Brady and Joe Vendig have been in wire communication with Dan L. Stewart, the wealthiest sporting man in Texas, to arrange to have the fight take place in Dallas.

The details are partially completed, and a definite decision will be reached before the week is ended. About $50,000 will be required.

CORNELL'S HENLEY CREW.

Men from Whom Courtney Will Select the English Challengers.

ITHACA, N. Y., May 9.—The following are the names of the men entered at the Henley (England) regatta, from whom will be selected the crew that is to pull the Cornell boat in the contest for the Grand Visitors' Challenge Cup.

SUNDAY WORLD

BASEBALL CHAT.

They showed up like real giants yesterday, and their batting streak alarmed Phillips, who gave many bases on balls to avoid possible long hits.

Jimmy Starford it was who got into yesterday's game at the right time and "planned" two men home.

Mike Tiernan is, and has been all along, in the championship form of 1893.

Artie Latham would be one of the best players in the League if he stop "clowning." His daring steal of third yesterday was one of those episodes of real ability that he exhibits to show his merit.

Here's a poet who knows what is needed: Tell me not in mournful numbers Life is but an empty dream. The giants still are full of blunders. Let 'em all the ball on the seam.

Mayor Smith, of St. Paul, Minn., having been formally petitioned on the subject by opponents of Sunday baseball, has announced that he would not enforce the law against such games, and that if any one sought to prevent Sunday ball games it must be through the courts.
